

TWITTER TALK

WITH MICHAEL LYNCH (P. 2)

***ALL BLUE HEADINGS ARE HYPERLINKED.***

The Scores Created Study

"This has become something I do at the end of every season. Ultimately - I just want to be able to assess the season accurately.

The Process:

- Watch how every basket was scored
- Categorize them
- Do this for our opponents as well"

"I think the study gives you a lot of insight into how teams are REALLY scoring on you - and where your teams points are ACTUALLY coming from.

- Half court actions
- Transition off TO's & just pushing it
- Specials, vs zones, etc."

"Let's see if how we're scoring reflects how we truly want to play.

- Transition Offense & Defense? Opponents as well.
- Did our practice time show up on film?"

Player Evaluations

"Our process goes like this:

- Players self evaluate
- I fill it out
- We discuss 1/1"

"I just think it's a chance to touch base as the season ends.

- Talk about new roles
- Talk about expectations
- Talk about the season"

Small-Sided Games

"The benefits of players getting more reps with SSG's is not new. I try to have a good mix of SSGs and 5/5 play at practice."

"2 most common ways:

- Start in an advantage state - Play to extend it.
- Start in neutral state - Work on actions to create."

"One thing we do a lot is to just use 4/4 Cut Throat as a way to get more guys touches - but also work on typical games actions.

These were a few we used this year:

- Possession starts in neutral
- Must start with a common action"

Having Limited Access with Players

"Focus on building relationships & teaching leadership. Be #Proactive in doing this, rather than waiting for things fall apart and then try addressing it. We're using @Lead_Em_Up."